Repositioning the Core Values Of Education

July 22, 2017
Four Points by Sheraton

Foreword

ICESAT stands for the International Conference on Education, Science, Art and Technology. It is organized by Universitas Negeri Makassar (UNM) as part of university anniversary. UNM is celebrating its 56th anniversary this year when this first ICESAT is conducted. This conference aims at bringing knowledge and good practices together from different perspectives. Linking theory, practice and research is a challenge to improve the quality of education. The speakers and participants are vary from academics, education practitioners, teachers, school principals, policy makers, and students.

We would like to thank everyone who has helped to organize the Conference. We thank all the speaker, the presenters and the participants. Special thanks is given to the Rector of Universitas Negeri Makassar and the university management for their support and fruitful feedback during the preparation of the Conference.
